SOCRED GROUP ELECTS CHIEFS FOR EAST AREA

Clover Bar Association
Holds Annual Convention
In City Tuesday

Delegates to the annual convention of the Clover Bar Social Credit Constituency Association, meeting at Strathcona Assembly Hall Tuesday, re-elected J. Whitford as president of the organization for 1940.

Other officers elected were: Vice-president, R. Murray; Treasurer, Mrs. S. Whitford. Three delegates, selected to represent the association at the annual meeting of the Alberta Social Credit League were Murray, Whitford and Mrs. Whitford. Cranstoun of Fort Saskatchewan.

NAURICA SPEAKS
J. A. Maurica, general secretary of the Social Credit League, addressed the convention and spoke mainly on the subject of organization and urged intensive effort in this direction.

There were 31 delegates in attendance from Fort Saskatchewan, Lacombe, Trochu, Edmonton, Lethbridge, New Sarepta, Leduc, St. Albert, and other points. The convention endorsed a resolution urging revision of the Alberta High School course, too difficult in some respects.

A committee of seven, headed by Mr. Whitford, was appointed to interview the Price Spreads Board regarding relation of farm products prices paid to the producer and paid by the consumer.

In the evening a public meeting was held in the hall at the Alameda Hotel, where the speakers Mr. Whitford presided.

PREDICTS VICTORY
In an address prior to his talk on Alberta industries, which was illustrated by Mr. Baker, he predicted that since the start of the year he had addressed 225 meetings. He predicted that at the next provincial general election, Social Credit would sweep to victory.

"If people would only buy Alberta-made goods, the unemployment problem would be solved," he said.

Mr. Whitford declared that a free public meeting was needed. He urged an early election at Kinsley, Sask., so that the people could exercise their franchise.

EMPLOYEE HAS
NARROW ESCAPE
IN NIGHT FIRE

Damage estimated at between $200 and $500 was caused Tuesday night by a fire which completely destroyed the modern feed-house, lower and upper on the silver fox ranch owned by P. D. McNeil, well-known North Edmonton fur farmer.

Several valuable silver fox pelts were also believed to have been lost in the fire, which nearly took the life of Ross Phillips, of 11301 65th street, who was employed at the feed-house by the McNeils.

Mr. Phillips, well-known boxer of the city, climbed into the observatory at the ranch to save a large number of pelts. Before he was able to reach the pelts from the blazing building, he was trapped and only escaped by crawling through a small window of the lower, sliding to the burning roof of the building and jumping to the ground.

Feed-house of the McNeil ranch was one of the best equipped of the many ranches in the city. It contained a large amount of valuable equipment. Loss was partially covered by insurance.

ALBERTA NOW
TOPS DOMINION
AS PLAYGROUND

Sunny Alberta! There isn't another province in the Dominion to equal it, according to Mr. and Mrs. Percy Manning, 11126 21st street, who have just returned from a trip through Eastern Canada.

"How perfectly awful to have to go back to Alberta, where you'll probably freeze to death," sympathized eastern friends of the Alberta couple as they left home.

Sunday afternoon, Mr. and Mrs. Manning went for a drive near the city, where a young man taking his leave for a come home trip, in midwinter, told them the Voyagers' lodge, Mr. and Mrs. Manning discovered a third group playing ping pong.

"I just wish we had brought some of our eastern friends back with us," laughed Mrs. Manning. "Wouldn't they be surprised. 'Wouldn't they be surprised?'

Amblance Men
Inspected Here

Dr. G. R. Johnson, provincial commissioner of the St. John Ambulance Brigade, inspected the Edmonton brigade and the cadets here Saturday. The commissioning, encouraged them to continue their study and work in first aid for the benefit of the community in which they lived.

SPADES SHOVEL UP GRABBY WHEN DIAMONDS FLOP

When George Moore bid two diamonds at a Canadian Legion bridge drive recently he had his tongue in his cheek, and nearly bit it off when C. J. Wilton, 1801 10th street, his opponent and next bidder, made it a grand slam in spades.

Mr. Wilton laid down a perfect spade. Mr. Moore, put 13 clubs on the table to be followed by a perfect heart hand from J. Jones, partner to the grand slam bidder. Mr. Moore with a shrewish grin laid down a perfect diamond hand to be the victim of the post-mortem.

The holder of the perfect diamond hand still hasn't won it down in the cellar of the Memorial Hall where several of the bridge fencers tell him he might have at least attempted a little slam on his million-to-one-perfect hand.

HUT CAMPAIGN IN FULL SWING HERE THIS WEEK

Drive to raise $4000 for Knights of Columbus Canadian Army Huts in the Edmonton district opened Saturday and is now in full swing with the endorsement of Lt.-Col. E. Brown, M.M. E.D., Edmonton grand master.

The welfare work to be carried on in these huts will be non-denominational.

Supporting the drive Col. Brown stated "as a participant in the first Great War, the Canadian Army Huts operated by the Knights of Columbus receive millions of temporary homes in the field. To the new soldiers of the present war the same auxiliary service will engender feelings of pride and appreciation."

I suggest," said Col. Brown, "that adequate support of the Columbus campaign will materially help the department of defence in its efforts to achieve recreational facilities for the soldiers."

NORTH CITY LAYS CLAIM EARLY PHONE

Installation of Vancouver's first dial telephone exchange Tuesday recalls the fact that a dial telephone was in use in Whitehorse, Yukon Territories, in 1901, according to H. Milton Martin, public administrator for the District of Mackenzie, who believes this was the first instrument of its kind in Canada.

The installation was made by Jack Wylie, post of New York City, and at that time Canadian representative of the Automatic Electric Co. of Chicago. Dial phones were first placed in operation in Edmonton in 1908.

Minute Make-Ups

If you use mascara or an eyebrow pencil on your eyebrows, be sure you do it skillfully. After you have applied the brush or pencil, powder your forehead and eyebrows lightly. Then take a brush and brush your eyebrows the wrong way, each one toward your nose. The powder is set. Then with another eyebrow brush, brush them in a natural line.

Debunker

Contrary to what one usually hears, trench warfare was not originated during the World War which started in 1914. This method of fighting is very old, and was employed by the Romans and the British as early as 50 B.C. Some time after the fifth century, the use of forts became more popular, and trench warfare was largely abandoned. In the United States Civil War, Robert E. Lee used trenches at Petersburg, Va., with zigzag lines to prevent "killing fire." British and French Army men went to Petersburg to study trench construction at the beginning of the World War, and from then trench warfare was used on all fronts.

Dorothy Dix Says:

What is the best age at which to marry? Twenty-four for women, 28 for men. At least that is the conclusion at which the statisticians have arrived. They say that marriages under 20 are almost predestined failures, while the point of risk comes between the ages of 21, 22 and 23-year-olds.

But between the age of 24 and 30 is the happiest time to enter into the holy estate, as after 30 the divorce rate rises and marriage again becomes a hazardous venture.

All of us who have passed through adolescence know that children in their teens are undeveloped, with changing tastes, and that the girl who thought her idea of perfection at 19 or 20 is apt to have him to extinction by the time he is 25.

No these young marriages come to grief without anybody being in blame except the Mother Nature who hurried a youth and maiden into each others arms on the quest of sex attraction when they were too young to know what they were doing. The peak of the tragedy is reached when these disillusioned young husbands and wives find, as they almost invariably do, that the woman who is their first love is not the woman who is their real mate and who has outgrown their immature notions of love and husband.

But if a couple wait until the woman is 24 and the man 28 they automatically eliminate most of the perils of matrimony. They are old enough to have settled down into wholeness, they are going to love their babies, and habits are formed, hence they pick out for life companions who are congenial and who will not change before they are also mature.

The danger to those who wait so long to marry, however, is that by the time they are 28 they have hardened in their characters. They are no longer pliable, and they find it difficult to adapt themselves to others; we acquire ways that are as set in stone as the habits of the old.

Raising A Family

May parents expect in the way of obedience, where toddlers are concerned?

A. Absolute attention.
B. Obedience to "No."
C. Cheerful response to "do" orders.

D. No need at all.
After you have had ten young ones, you will know more about it than I can tell you. The first one is the most interesting. Maybe you will decide, when he is a year and a half old, that he is going to be headstrong and not worth his salt.

Yes, because you don't know a 10-month-old child's necessary things about the development of tiny children.

For instance, a troubled young mother wrote me one time about her little boy a year and a half old. She let him help her read the table, which was grand, and wipe the dishes, which was also fun. All she ever let him carry some dishes into the dining room to put away. That was the trick, a turned out.

He had three glasses in his hands instead of the positive command. That left two. She hurried him to bed, and he was so tired that he didn't want to drop any more.

Any and "obedient" will tell you that this is the best way to get the first idea of obedience and conformity is learned through the positive command.

Little children actually learn NOT to do things before they learn to do them. That is when they are in their early months.

COMMAND WAS CORRECT BUT BABY MISUNDERSTOOD
Now as to the adventure of the baby. He dropped one glass and he thought he should have known that "No" meant he was not to drop any more glasses. But instead of that he deliberately banged the other two on the floor; and mother was heartless.

I don't think she minded the glasses so much, but she was worried terribly, poor little lady, because her young son was getting ideas of his own and the way he had done other two glasses from him was defiance at its best.

That's what she thought. Now I hope she will read this, but she did not give me name. This is what happened as sure as the new moon.

He was being true to type. He was saying "No," which meant that he was not to drop any more glasses. But instead of that he deliberately banged the other two on the floor; and mother was heartless.

Russia Would Lose Big
North Gasoline Cache
If She Fights Canada

If Russia's belligerent actions should bring that country into conflict with the British Empire, Canada would automatically and immediately come into possession of about 1,000 gallons of gasoline. The quantity of high grade airplane fuel, the property of the Soviet government, is now cached at Alkiva, at the mouth of the Mackenzie river.

The gas was taken to the far north trading post two winters ago when Sir Hubert Wilkins was using Alkiva as a base from which to search for the Russian fliers who disappeared while attempting a flight from Moscow to California.

The gasoline—40 barrels of it, each containing 45 gallons—which was flown in at the time of the search is still there, no orders to move it having been received.

This fact is recalled in Edmonton by North Saskatchewan, Canadian Airway pilot who flew most of the gasoline in for the Wilkins' search party.

Two husbands appeared on charges of non-support. One was granted an adjournment and the other was ordered to talk things over with his wife. It turns out that the claims he has about $300 worth of stock in some kind of business which he refuses to sell, though he said it would give him a comfortable life ever after. The whole story seemed so muddled in police court that the judge adjourned the case and ordered the warring couple to settle their dispute and ordered an adjournment to let them get together. There'll be more on this later. Watch for the next thrilling installment—if I don't forget.

Locked Auto Stolen
From Owner's Home

In spite of the fact that it was locked, an automobile belonging to Clarence Eversole, 1705 Saskatchewan Drive, was stolen from his home Tuesday night, police said. The car was found in the street Wednesday. They said the thieves must have forced open the auto and then contacted the ignition wires through the lock of the Old Blue Nash coupe which carried license number 3541.

City's brief snowfall Tuesday morning was just a mere flash in the pan, according to the local forecast for "fair and mild" days. The Alberta Motor Association reported no snow in other sections of the province.

Mean temperature in the city yesterday was 44 above as compared with 35 above a year ago. Overnight low was 32 above.

"DEAD" PROF
FOR 21 YEARS
IS NOW ALIVE

Professor of pharmacy at the University, Lt.-Col. F. A. Stewart Dunn is officially alive after being "dead" for more than 21 years. In the last war he was severely wounded and was killed in action. The military doctor put him down as "killed in action". The medical officer was wounded during a counter-attack, and was behind the lines, leaving the death report of Col. Dunn, which eventually reached headquarters.

Since that time, his name has been off the roll book of a Calgary lodge, but has recently been reinstated, saving him $600 lodge dues during his 21 years "demise," he stated.

SALESMAN IS ACQUITTED ON ARSON COUNT

Neil D. Maclean, K.C., Succeeds in Case—Woman Admits Perjury

Admission made by Mrs. A. E. Herwick, chief Crown witness in the arson trial against L. Ernie McElroy, Edmonton salesman, that she had committed perjury at the preliminary hearing before Magistrate A. J. Miller, K.C., Tuesday.

Under cross-examination by Neil D. Maclean, K.C., counsel for Mr. McElroy, Mrs. Herwick told the court her statement "that a former marriage had been annulled by special act of parliament" was untrue and that she knew she was committing perjury. She said she did it "for the sake of her two children and would do the same thing again."

At the conclusion of the Crown's case Mr. Maclean submitted that on the evidence it would be dangerous to convict the accused. He submitted that Mrs. Herwick, on her own admission, was an accomplice in the crime if a crime had been committed.

Mr. Justice Tweedie held she was an accomplice, citing the fact that she received approximately $100 of the insurance proceeds from a residence fire occurring August 1st. Coupling these facts with glaring discrepancies in her evidence, stated the court, it would be dangerous to convict the accused, although there are factors in the case which are suspicious.

Building permit for $15,000 worth of alterations for King hotel, 1006 103 street, was issued Wednesday by the city building department subject to approval of the plans. MacDonald and Mabson are architects and J. R. McIntyre contractor.

Residents of the city for many years, Mrs. Katherine Singer of 962 10th avenue, widow of the late Michael Singer, died at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Henshaw, 828 10th avenue, Tuesday morning at the age of 80 years. She is survived by four daughters, Mrs. Ureel, of St. Paul, Minn.; Mrs. Shoshone, Mrs. Henshaw and Mrs. Schmitt, all of Edmonton and four sons, Philip, Jack and Vail, all of Edmonton and John of Spruce Grove.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Thursday at the funeral home of J. R. McIntyre, 1006 103 street, with Rev. Henshaw officiating.

Pioneers Still Going Strong Here

—Mr. B. Stewart, past Master.

One of the oldest organizations in the city is the Edmonton local of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America. The local received its charter Nov. 11, 1902, and since that time has played a prominent part in advancing the building trade in the city. The local was instrumental in the formation of the Trades and Labor Council here in 1905, the first president of which was J. A. Kenny. Mr. Kenny was also the first laborer elected to the city council. Shown above are the executives of the carpenters' local and some of the oldest members of the organization who talked over old times at a recent meeting of the local. From left to right, back row: A. Mordridge, business agent; R. J. Metcalfe, recording secretary; and F. Penrose, who joined the local in 1910. Centre row: C. C. Greening, treasurer; J. Logan, president; R. B. Grady, vice-president; and L. D. Pollard, financial secretary. Front row: J. A. S. Smith, member since 1909; John W. Lidstone, member since 1907; T. Gordon, member since 1911; and D. R. Blair, member since 1912. Mr. Lidstone and Mr. Gordon are holding the charter.

QUESTION
"What do you think of the maintenance of tourist traffic during the war?"

THE ANSWERS
C. H. GRANT, K.C., president National Parks Highway Association. Our association of Canada, since the outbreak of war, has been maintaining tourist traffic during the war. It did this not only as a source of maintaining money in Canada, but getting needed currency for exchange purposes, but also because Canada is a good place for Americans and others to visit, especially when Europe is darkened by war.

J. A. MENDEL, secretary Alberta Motor Association. With the publicity to be had from the scenic beauty and sport attractions of this province, Alberta should enjoy a banner tourist season. We should start planning for it now.

NORMAN ROBERTS, clerk, Tourist Bureau. The province has a wealth of importance. It will help show our visitors something of the spirit of Canada and the Empire in war and that help breed sympathy for the Allied powers which may prove a valuable asset in facing the tasks that lie ahead.

School Board Planning
Teach Scholars About
Work Of Police Force

Any day now Edmonton students may be heard shouting, "the cops are coming!"

A special meeting of the Edmonton Public School Board in the Civic School Tuesday afternoon, December 9, at 3 p.m., was instructed to seek the co-operation of the police force in acquainting the students with the problems of the custodians of the law.

It is hoped that this effort, which will be followed by the city police, will visit the schools and address the students, outlining the work done by the police, problems that beset them, and ways in which the students may aid the police.

This action is in line with that being carried on in many other parts of Canada and in the United States where special efforts are being made to teach youth that members of the police force are a fine group of individuals and not intent on causing as much embarrassment and grief to the average citizen as is usually thought.

Action of the School Board resulted from a recommendation by S. H. Churchill, principal of the Forest Heights school, that such an educational movement be instigated.

OFFICER'S WIFE
FORCED TO PAY
TRAFFIC FINE

There is a humorous, as well as a serious and sometimes tragic side to this business of law enforcement. But now is causing more chuckles at the city police station this week than the predicament Police Accountant H. S. Reynolds found himself in.

Now Mr. Reynolds is the man who collects the $1 fine from "tagged" motorists and the 50-cent pieces from jaywalkers. Early this week he was jacking in the shingles with the greatest of ease when he suddenly looked up to find Mr. Reynolds, a fine fellow, who collects the $1 fine from "tagged" motorists and the 50-cent pieces from jaywalkers. ## Looking Them Over

By Jack Kelly
Helmet Campaign
Mamini Helps
On The Spot

A year more than ever at the start of the hockey season I have been looking a matter that the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association should have dealt with long ago, and that is the wearing of the helmet.

This season Roy Mamini, sports editor of the Calgary Herald, has thrown himself into the campaign to save players from death, a permanent soft spot in their brain or worse in a hospital. Roy advocates helmets and I give him as my comrade in the "revolution"—we ever get it started.

Calgary has already seen two players killed in hockey accidents who were not wearing helmets. One was a case of a player who was killed by a puck in the back of the head and another who was killed by a puck in the back of the head. The latter was a case of a player who was killed by a puck in the back of the head.

If these facts carried into this reasoning to a logical end, you would find them come into the trenches headfirst while the strapless pattered down.

Governing Bodies On Spot

THE governing bodies of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association should step in and make helmets compulsory in senior, intermediate and junior hockey.

The winter Jasper Park comes into its own as one of the finest ski lands in Canada. In the upper left Coach John Vande, James Sasse instructor, looks up a towering slope with his star pupil, Gertrude Wepala, Dominion Games champion. Both Vande and Sasse were also winners of the 1938-39 season. On the lower left is Reg Rault, Edmonton's champion skier, who is hitting a mile-a-minute slalom run. On the right a party enjoying the powder snow in the Tropic Valley.

EDMONTON, Dec. 6.—Coach Reg. Threlfall, shot Bud Marquardt through 60 minutes of scrimmage Tuesday and declared the rangers outside wing ready to start with Winnipeg Blue Bombers in their national football title game with the Rough Riders at Ottawa Saturday.

Marquardt took his lumps with the rest of the Bombers in their first scrimmage since moving east and his position, however, from a "separation" stand the rest. His return to action should give the westerners new clearance for seasons around the end and sound new hope for the team.

Marquardt will make out with the first team in the rest of the week, Threlfall said, "there seems to be no question but that he'll be fit Saturday."

At the same time it became known that Wayne Dwyer, a man on the Bombers' staff, said: "Marquardt is the 'zoo' of a team, while he's not been in the game, he's been in the game."

But there's another story which says the team is in a rougher condition in a show of supposed strength.

Roy Conacher Gets Goal to Beat Amerks

Up To Hawks

BOSTON, Dec. 6.—Roy Conacher's third period goal gave the Bruins a 2-1 victory over New York Americans last night and moved the world champions into a second place tie with Montreal Canadiens in the National Hockey League standings.

The Bruins were sparked in their second victory over the Americans in three nights by Eddie Shore. Shore had been excused for the remainder of the season by the Bruins to enable him to devote all of his attention to his own Springfield International-American Club.

The all-star defenseman, who retired, however, to fill in for Bill (Flash) Heston, about because of the death of his small son.

Shore registered the unsanitized tally that enabled the Bruins to come from behind in the second period. Early in the final period, Roy Conacher rammed home the "clincher" after taking an around-the-net pass from Bill Conacher.

Murray Armstrong tallied for the New Yorkers late in the first period.

Late in the exciting contest, the Conacher brothers indicated that hockey was closer to them. Dan blood. Young Roy of the Bruins was among the Bruins' leading scorers. Charlie Everett took him and tripped him as he was about to launch his cleave shot. Charlie was punished and Roy was awarded a penalty shot that he was unable to make.

Ex-Vancouver Star Adds Laurels to Dominion Badminton Crown
MONTREAL, Dec. 6.—Dick Birch, tall Vancouver badminton ace who now lives in Montreal, returned here Tuesday with three titles to add to the Dominion crown he hopes to defend this winter.

Birch, Canadian singles champion in 1937 and 1938, gained his new laurels at Montreal during the week-end, winning the singles men's doubles and mixed doubles titles in the first Mason-Dixon international tournament.

His first triumph came when he upset Walter Kramer of Detroit, the 1937-38 State No. 1 player, 15-13, 13-15 in the singles. Then he teamed with Peter Poulet of Montreal to defeat George Morris and Paul Vancos of New York 15-13, 13-15 in the men's doubles.

He completed his sweep by pairing with Mrs. John Dwyer of Baltimore during the week-end, winning the mixed doubles crown in a three-set match against Helen Gibson and Clinton Stephens of New York. The score was 15-13, 13-15, 15-17.

The 25-year-old champion said he would not be on deck this winter to defend his Canadian crown, "but first I must get out of those warm coats." This is the Vancouver player's first winter in the east. He was left for Baltimore during the week-end, however, a blizzard covered the city streets with snow and the temperature fell below freezing.

Good, it could have been said upon his return. "Baltimore, now, was more like my home town."

The wobble of the early aches is called the "procession." It is caused by an uneven gravitational pull of the sun on the earth. This would not occur if the earth were exactly globular.

WILL the matter of the Women's Federation Blue Book, held by Noel Macdonald on behalf of the Edmonton Credit last year, be settled for 1940 by a majority vote giving the credit award to Miss Dolan, the Toronto sprinter?

Recent comment by these Toronto writers on the Rose Bowl award gives the impression that they still can't quite believe that the Waters could do such a thing to become.

Miss Edith Macdonald, president of the Waters, has threatened to sue the Federation members for not giving consideration to candidates from sports not under the banner of the W.A.P.A. She believes the matter of credit award to the Federation should not be allowed to influence the awarding of the Rose Bowl. Edmonton's W.A.P.A. affiliate, Miss Macdonald, is reported to have foundered in the matter, but there seems no reason for this to quarrel with the award since Mrs. Watson received the award in 1938 and fourth choice and therefore did receive consideration.

The position of Alberta will get the A.A.A. dominating track and field championships although the city in stage them has not yet been named. Generally the W.A. has been in the past on the same date and in the same city. Our information is that Edmonton is likely to get the credit award unless there is an absolute change of field on the part of the writers who will assist the site.

Major Clubs' Rights Upheld Against Landis

CINCINNATI, Dec. 6.—In one swift swoop Tuesday, the minor league football commissioner Kenneth M. Landis tried to restrict the rights of major league clubs to maintain and increase their relations with clubs of lesser classification.

The National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues passed not one but several amendments upholding the rights of major league clubs to maintain and increase their relations with clubs of lesser classification.

The amendments will have to come before the major league clubs at their meetings beginning Thursday, when Commissioner Landis himself will be on hand. But most clubs in the majors were expected to be guided by the sentiment of the minors and there seemed no doubt that all of today's amendments would be incorporated promptly into the major league agreement.

Restrictions on an entire farm system in player transfers where the minor league club is not to be removed. Rules regarding player transfers cannot be interpreted to mean anything more than is stated.

Representatives of one club can be empowered to sign players to contracts for affiliated clubs. The amendments concerning interpretations stated: "All rules and regulations passed or adopted by the minor league clubs shall be permitted and the words 'club or clubs' as used in this section or elsewhere in the National Association agreement shall be interpreted in strict accordance with section 4 of article 20 of the constitution of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues."

The amendments were by the major league clubs and will be approved by the two major leagues before becoming a part of the rules.
